This engaging online event, organised by the EU Mission Adaptation with the collaboration of Mission Cities, offers practical insights for integrating climate-resilient measures into public procurement processes and synergies between adaptation and mitigation. Featuring expert presentations and real-world examples, it highlights innovative solutions including, nature-based and technical approaches, to inspire scalable action. Participants will gain actionable knowledge from successful implementation stories shared by local authorities and regions, while fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange within the Community of Practice and beyond.

Whether you are part of an adaptation team, a Mission Project, or a stakeholder looking to advance climate resilience, this session will provide valuable tools and actionable insights to support your work.
